Feelin' peckish?

Pick from our all-day lobby restaurant, our mezzanine bar, or our first London rooftop bar and restaurant with views over the Thames.

Working From_

There are also five floors of coworking space should you need to knuckle down – an exciting first for The Hoxton. Work, rest, or play, we got you.

The Neighbourhood

As former factories have been converted into galleries, bars and restaurants, South Bank has become a prime borough for foodie adventures and a great deal of guzzling. Stroll along the banks of the Thames, explore London's best theatres, or foot it around the corner to Borough.

Did you know?

The first pie and mash shop on record opened just down the road on Union Street. Can't get more London than that.
